Uncle Sam Says

How would you like a fat raise? Pretty stuff, you say? It isn't. It's cold cash, brass tacks reality—if you want it to be. How do you go for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Send-A-Month plan where you bank. For every $3 you put away now, you get $4 in 10 years. Take part of your pay each week in U. S. Savings Bonds and that's all. That's a fat gain in any man's arithmetic. And if ten years seems like a long time to look ahead, just give a thought to the 41 Americans who bought bonds 10 years ago, and hung on to them. Right now, Ten years will be coming you know it!

FATHER DARKLEAF

By The Editor

Glen Franklin, 18 year old son of Rusty Franklin, of Spout Spring, found a U. S. Weather Balloon, attached to a 6-inch cardboard saucer last week. Such balloons have recently been found in various parts of the country and considered as an explanation of the "flying saucer" mystic August is revival meeting time throughout the country. And this year churches are reporting record crowds at their revival services.

The rains came, in torrents, but the old capacity crowds to see and hear "Sunshine Sue" at the local Dixie Theatre last Thursday night. We understood her show has been booked for a return engagement some time this fall. And we also note that "Sunshine Sue" was "Queen of the Hillbillies" in Richmond this Saturday.

Hail did considerable damage in this section last week. Tobacco was hammered and some farmers reported damage to tomatoes, peppers, and other growing crops.

Father Darkleaf has never gotten old enough not to get jittery during severe electrical storms. And Father Brightleaf just calls off all chores when lightning starts flashing. We work in a maze of machinery and I have always felt that the safest place under a bed was a piece of steel during a severe storm! However, in later years I have come to feel that an automobile is also a pretty safe place in so far as lightning is concerned. Or, is there a better explanation?

It was rather lonesome down town last Saturday afternoon. Everyone had apparently gone to the ball game at Holliday Lake.

Take a tip and don't go to Richmond on business on a Saturday or Monday. Some places are closed all day Saturday during the summer, half a day Saturday, and some closed all day Mondays. Shorter working weeks are fine for employees, however, and that takes in most of us.

10th Birthday Of Soil Districts

Farmer-supervisors of the Robert E. Lee Soil Conservation District this week joined the supervisors of 1,900 other districts throughout the nation in observing two major events in soil and water conservation history. First is the 10th, anniversary of soil conservation districts; second is the reaching of the billionth-acre mark in soil conservation district organization.

"The nation's first soil conservation district was created by landowners in North Carolina August 4, 1937," said Chairman B. G. Anderson of the local district. "That district is the Brown Creek Soil Conservation District which includes the farm where Dr. Hugh H. Bennett, now chief of the Soil Conservation Service, was born and reared."

Chairman Anderson said that the soil conservation district movement has made much faster progress than the pioneers in soil and water conservation first thought possible.

Farmers in 1941 voted to organize the Robert E. Lee District. Since that time, Soil Conservation Service technicians assigned to the district have assisted 802 farmers to plan and begin applying complete farm soil and water conservation programs on 166,468 acres.

Serving with Mr. Anderson on the board of supervisors are: R. W. Gannaway, Buckingham; J. F. Blair, Cumberland; J. E. Dinwiddie, Amherst, and J. G. Inge, of Campbell.

Ghost Town In California To Be Made a State Park

COLUMBIA, CALIF. — Believed to be the first brick public schoolhouse in California, a red brick structure on top of Burial Hill in this ghost mining town has been bought by the Columbia Historic Park association.

Built in 1861, the schoolhouse will be the cornerstone upon which the boundaries of Columbia state park will be based. It will be restored and preserved as a monument to California's early-day school system.

This purchase was part of a campaign to acquire all the well-preserved historic buildings in the old mining town, which is to be restored.

DIRECTOR ADVISES RAISING STANDARD OF LIVING

Farm families too often see increased income from high farm prices to buy more land or expand operations rather than to raise the standards of living, says L. B. Dietrick, director of the Agricultural Extension Service.

In planning for future expenditures, farmers are advised to give careful consideration to better education, better health and nutrition, better houses with lights, running water, telephones and other conveniences; recreation; and better churches. Otherwise, the director believes, migration from rural areas to the cities may increase. Not only do we need to make home life more pleasant, but we must also take more of the backaches out of farm work if we are "gonna keep 'em down on the farm," he says.

Director Dietrick cautioned against plunging headlong into debt, and advised farmers instead to pay off existing farm mortgages and other debts while returns on farm products are still high. A farm mortgage, he pointed out, can now be paid off with less than 1-4 as much corn, beef or hogs, 1-3 as many eggs or chickens and 1-2 as much milk as in the depression years. If prices fall, more of these commodities will naturally be required to meet the same obligations.

MISS PEARL COLEMAN

Interment services for Miss Pearl Coleman, following funeral services in Richmond, were held at the Colman Family Cemetery, this county, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Irving. Active pallbearers were: Ralph Coleman, Kenneth Coleman, Terry Rogers, Floyd Coleman, Harry Blanks and Ed Blanks.

Nation's Automobiles Are Doing Well, Says Report

WASHINGTON.—The nation's automobiles, most of them prewar models, seem to get better with age.

American Automobile association reports there were fewer automobile breakdowns in 1946 than in the record year of 1945.

The AAA said increased supplies of tires and spare parts enable motorists to keep their cars in much better repair.

An estimate based on reports from 14,000 AAA member garages showed a drop in 1946 of more than 10 per cent in the number of mechanical breakdowns below 1945.

Tire trouble, as usual, was the No. 1 cause for emergency calls. Next in line was battery trouble, then ignition failures and bad carburetors.

And drivers are still absent-minded. The report showed that 779,000 drivers ran out of gas, and 372,000 either lost their keys or locked themselves out.

Attended Rural Affairs Meeting In Blacksburg

The following delegates from the Home Demonstration Clubs of Appomattox, with Mrs. B. G. Anderson, Home Agent, attended the fourteenth Institute of Rural Affairs at Blacksburg, from July 28 to August 1: county delegates Mrs. Harry Lucado, Oakville Club and Mrs. W. H. Connor, Clover Hill Club; individual Club delegates: Mrs. Gus Torrence, Lee Club, and Mrs. Charlie Lewis, Oakville Club.

Morning, afternoon and evening sessions were the order of the day, with such nationally known speakers as Col. Francis Pickins Miller, of the United States Army Intelligence; Dr. M. V. Ziegler, F.H.A.; Dr. H. B. Mulholland, Department of Medicine of the University of Virginia; Hon. John W. Flannagan, Dr. Carl Taylor, B.E.S. of U.S.D.A.; Miss Ruby Loper, Agricultural Extension Service, New York; and Dr. Virginius Dabney, editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Col. Miller spoke on international problems affecting agriculture. He is a veteran of both World Wars, and has keen insight into problems facing the world today.

Hon. John Flannagan very forcefully pointed out that the present farm program is an excellent one and we must not let it be changed. He has one more year in Congress and he declared that a new or different program would be put into effect only over his protest.

Dr. Mulholland brought home to his hearers the crying need of more doctors and better medical care for rural people. In support of this he suggested for a legislative program for 1948:

1. An integrated state-wide hospital system with all doctors affiliated,

2. Periodic examination of school children by a doctor.

3. General use of medical care insurance.

4. A widespread system of mental hygiene clinics.

5. All local organizations and interested individuals associated in a county medical care council affiliated with the state council.

Dr. Dabney thinks the South is better equipped to handle its problems than ever before and pointed out that the atomic bomb might yet be a blessing to us in that for safety's sake the industrial areas must be placed where the population is not so dense and that gives the advantage to the South.

Mrs. E. Floyd Yates, retiring Federation President, was named delegate to the triennial meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World at Amsterdam, Holland, in August. Mrs. N. C. Bailey of Orange County was appointed new state president.

Farmers and their wives, as well as others attending the Institute, all acclaimed it a great success and inspiration. Those who have never been should make their plans now to go next year.

Many Changes In Tuesday's Election In Va.

There will be quite a number of changes in State and county officials as a result of Tuesday's primary election. The primary was featured by fairly heavy voting in sections where there were contests for offices. Appomattox County officers had no opposition and there was no primary here.

One incumbent State Senator and six incumbent members of the House were defeated in bids for renomination. Ten county sheriffs and four county commonwealth's attorneys were defeated.

Closest race appeared to have been a contest for the House of Delegates in Fairfax, where Robert L. McCandlist apparently lost out to Edwin Lynch by a narrow vote of 2,852 to 2,854. But in Mecklenburg County only six votes separated F. C. Bedinger and C. W. Cleaton, for the House. It was unofficially announced as 1,947 to 1,941.

Incumbent sheriffs were defeated in Buckingham, Accomack, Augusta, Bedford, Buchanan, Fairfax, Franklin, Nottoway, Patrick and Roanoke Counties.

In nearby Buckingham County, H. E. Griffin, incumbent, defeated C. H. Agee for county treasurer; R. T. Hubbard defeated the incumbent A. L. Pitt, Jr. for commonwealth's attorney, and Herbert Adams defeated incumbent Y. G. Johnson for sheriff. There were approximately 1,900 votes cast in the Buckingham election.

Legion Will Issue Book

David T. Robertson, Commander of Appomattox Post 104 of the American Legion, stated today that the Post has arranged with N. R. Featherston to publish his planned book, "The History of Appomattox." The Legion at a recent meeting authorized David T. Robertson and Judge Joel W. Flood to carry out the necessary arrangements with Mr. Featherston and to conduct sale of the book when published.

The book is expected to go to press sometime in October and will be ready for Christmas Sales. Mr. Featherston, author of the book, has worked for many years compiling a history of Appomattox and its people. In the book will be a service record and pictures of veterans of World Wars I and II and of the Spanish-American War.

Those who have not already given a history of their family to Mr. Featherston are asked to do so immediately. Veterans will receive an information card from Mr. Robertson in a few days and are requested to fill in the information asked and return immediately, with a picture. This picture can be a snapshot or portrait in uniform or in civilian clothes.
